Coon Who Has Got His Claws With Him. Chairman Odell of the Republican State committee is expected back from his foreign trip earlier than he at first intended to come. Mr. Odell has sent word ahead that nothing is to be done concerning the New York Mayoralty from the Republican standpoint until he arrives. It is not, however, the New York city situation, it was stated yesterday by those in Mr. Odell's confidence, that is bothering him, because Republicans of high and low degree both in and out of the Republican county machine say that Mr. Odell cannot possibly elect his candidate for Mayor even with the assistance of William R. Hearst and the Hearst Municipal Ownership League. As a matter of fact, many Republicans deprecate what they believe to be an alliance between Mr. Odell and Mr. Hearst, and say that the Mayoralty situation is rapidly developing in a way that will surprise many

But those who have heard from Mr. Odell say that he is very greatly worried over Hooker. Gov. Higgins is undoubtedly sincere in his statement that he will not call an extraordinary session of the Legislature if Justice Hooker will resign his place on the Supreme Court Bench. Gov. Higgins does not believe that there are other matters of sufficient moment to warrant him in calling an extraordinary session. Justice Hooker has reiterated the statement that he would not resign although the Assembly committee unanimously reported against him. He does not believe that two-thirds of the Legislature will vote to remove him. His friends have let it be known that not only will be not resign, but they threaten that if the worst comes to the worst he will turn State's evidence and "then the fur will fly, by jiminy!"

Justice Hooker knows all about the George Bissert case, and knows that a number of Mr. Odell's satellites of that time, some of whom are now radically opposed to Mr. Odell, are aware of all that took place in this highly sensational chapter in the career of Justice Hooker and Mr. Odell. In other words, if Justice Hooker is to go down, it was stated, he will pull down some of those who occupied high seats in the Republican temple at the time. The facts of the George Bissert case have never been fully explained, for the reason that Justice Hooker and Mr. Odell and others thoroughly familiar with it have attempted to prevent the evidence from coming to the light of day.

Justice Hooker's friends said yesterday that he had every justification for telling the public the facts about the Bissert and other matters, because Chairman Odell has set informers an example by engaging with Aton B. Parker in the United States Shipbuilding syndicate and then publicly informing on Judge Parker. One thing, Justice Hooker's friends said, could be relied upon and that was that he would not be forced to resign without telling publicly very many things which are now known in the inner circles of the Odell camp and to a few outside of it.

But Mr. Odell, it is expected, will try to convince Justice Hooker that he cannot now hurt Odell by bringing to the front the Bissert case, for the reason that Odell is not now Governor of the State, while Justice Hooker is still on the bench; and, moreover, Mr. Odell will make no fight to remain as chairman of the Republican State committee at the next Republican State convention. Still, the fact that Justice Hocker's friends have made it known that unless something turns up to help him now he will turn State's evidence was the interesting topic among Republicans here-

FEAR RETALIATORY ACTION. Opposition in Canada to the Deportation of American Railway Officers.

OTTAWA. Ont , May 27 .- Officers of the P re Marquette Railway take the ground that the American officers of their line whose deportation has been ordered by the Deminion Government, were not brought in under contract, but were simply transferred from one section of the line to another. Such being the case, they argue, there has been no violation of the Canadian alien labor act. Argument along this line was presented yesterday by W. Cotter, general manager of the P re Marquette at Detroit, and Mr. Stephens, the company's solicitor, before E. L. Newcombe, Deputy Minister of Justice. In conversation later Mr. Cotter said:

"We have not violated the act as interpreted and enforced in the United States, and we can establish this if we are granted hearing by the Canadian Government. e did not import the officials to take the We did not import the officials to have been a long time in our employ and earned their promotion."

To Save the Picces After 33 Years of

The litigation that has been pending in this State thirty-three years over the estate of Paran Stevens, who died in 1872, bids fair to come to an early end, as the result of negotiations for a settlement. Several million dollars were involved in the controversy, and large sums have been eaten up by counsel fees and costs. The principal parties still remaining to carry on the litigation are Mrs. Arthur Paget of England, daughter of Paran Stevens, the trustees under her marriage settlement and Mrs. John S. Melcher, a widowed daughter of Mrs. Stevens.

Ex-Judge Charles Donohue is the referee in the action by which the rights of the various parties were to be determined, and he has approved the compromise which, it is expected, will put an end to all the legal complications. It remains only for the Supreme Court to pass on his approval.

Under the proposed arrangement, Mrs. Melcher will convey to the trustees of Mrs. Paget's marriage settlement one-eighth of the Hotel Victoria property at Broadway and Twenty-eighth street, which forms a part of the estate. In consideration of this, Mrs. Melcher will be released from all this, Mrs. Melcher will be released from all claims held against her by the other parties, and other releases will also be signed, absolving all the parties in interest from existing claims, so that there will remain no subject for future litigation.

Three years have been spent in arriving at this arrangement, and negotiations were completed only when it was explained to the litigants that there was no prospect of an end of the pending suits, which have got into a more complicated state than ever. Accountings and counter-account-got into a more complicated state than ever. Accountings and counter-accountings were still to be made, and unless sacrifices were made by all hands, every little step would be the subject of appeals, and consequent indefinite delay.

By his will, Paran Stevens set aside a trust fund of $1,000,000 for the benefit of his wife, Marietta R. Stevens, with reversion to the children. Separate provision was also made for the children, but this reversionary interest was the source this reversionary interest was the source of endless complications. Henry L of endless complications. ## TAMMANY AND CITS.

Brooklyn Republican Managers Frown on Flirtation Between Them.

The Republican managers in Brooklyn are jealous of any flirtation on the part of the Citizens' Union with Tammany and threaten to break off the harmonious relations with the former organization if it is not halted. Yesterday Chairman Jacob Brenner of the executive committee, after consultation with some of the Assembly district leaders, came out with a statement a part of which follows.

a part of which follows:

It has been stated by those who have discussed the matter that the success of the municipal campaign since 1897 was greatly augmented by the trincipal claim of the Citizens' Union that it was an anti-Tammany organization, and in fact that claim was one of its cardinal planks in every campaign. In all previous campaigns the aid of every anti-Tammany organization was solicited to enable the city to be wrested from the control of Tammany. The Republican organization of Kings county is still an anti-Tammany force, and it cannot occupy any position in harmony with Tammany or with any organization in harmony with Tammany, or with any organization in sympathy with Tammany or its candidates. It can hardly be expected that the Citizens' Union will find anything in Tammany, its principles or its candidates to command its support. I am sure it will be difficult for any argument or state of facts to be presented that will permit the Republican organization to coalesce with Tammany.

I have no doubt, when the time arrives for action by the various political and civic organizations of the great city to array themselves for the coming test, that all the forces for good government will be found in one column.

The majority of the Republican leaders majority of the Republican leaders in Brooklyn are opposed to the appointment of a committee to confer with the Citizens' Union as long as the latter body holds out the clive branch to Tammany.

Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Lease, who was prominent in Kansas politics some years ago and has since been lecturing on socialism, reported to the police Friday that she had been robbed. She lives in a flat with her son and two daughters on the top floor of 64 East 122d street.

"I came home about 5 o'clock Friday afternoon," she said yesterday. "I found the door open, but thought my son had got home before me and I went into the sitting room and read for a time.

"Then I went to my bedroom and a man stepped from behind the door and pressed the muzzle of a revolver against my temple. He said if I made an outery he would shoot

"I asked him to put down the pistol and said I would not scream. He grabbed me by the throat and pressed me back on a trunk. All the time he was in the room he kept the revolver pointed at me as though afraid I might have a pistol or some other weapon myself. He finally backed out of the room and closed the door after him.

"When I looked about I saw the room had been ransacked. A purse containing $112 was gone and so were clothing and silverware worth $500.

I waited a little while and then started of follow the burglar. In going along the hall I saw another man in my daughter's room. I quietly stole out into the hall and hurried down stairs and went to the grocery next door and told them to get a policeman as there was a burglar in my rooms. The men in the store did not seem to realize what I said and did not hing to to realize what I said and did nothing to help eatch the burglar. I went looking for a policeman myself, but couldn't find

TURNED OVER $1,000,000 TO SON. Pauper-Wants an Accounting.

The suit of Jeremiah Fitzpatrick against his son, James Fitzpatrick, and the latter's wife. Margaret, for an accounting and to recover a power of attorney, is down on the calendar of Special Term of the Supreme Court in Brooklyn for trial next Friday. Jeremiah Fitzpatrick is 85 years old and lives at 78 Columbia Heights. He was formerly the head of the largest glass manufacturing concern in the United States, and gave to his son James a power of attorney of the controlling interest of the Fitzpatrick Glass Manufacturing Company at Greenwich and North Moore streets, Manhattan, and also power of attorney over the remainder of his estate, on condition that the property was to be held in trust for the father, his wife and children, and that the father was to receive a stated sum weekly for his maintenance. Mr Fitzpatrick also avers that he advanced his son James $250,000 in cash and notes to erect a glass factory at Falls Creek, Pa. Jeremiah Fitzpatrick alleges that several months ago he learned that a piece of property in Hoboken, valued at $15,000, had been transferred by his son James to James's wife, who in turn had transferred it to a third person. He then demanded an accounting from his son, which was an accounting from his son, which refused, and he then threatened to begin refused, and he then threatened to begin refused. Thereupon James refused, and he then threatened to begin the present action. Thereupon James, stopped paying his father his weekly al-lowance. Three other suits have also been begun, one in New York county by Paul Fitzpatrick, a brother, for an ac-counting of his 5 per cent, interest in the glass concern, the second a suit in chancery in New Jersey to recover possession of the Hoboken property, while James Fitzpatrick has begun an action against his brother-in-law, Dr. E. T. Curran, who lives at the Columbia Heights house, to recover $50,000 for defamation of character and libel.

suit in equity did not secure his rights he would begin criminal proceedings.

"My son's wife is the principal of the two," said Mr. Fitzpatrick. "She has courage and he has none. He is a weaking. She is a bold financier. ### EAT-'EM-UP MURDER SUSPECT. Kid Chuck of the Pell St. Gang Arrested -Fight Stopped Short.

Metz, alias Kid Chuck and Little Chuck, was arrested yesterday morning on suspicion that he was concerned in the murder of Eat-'Em-Up Jack McManus on Thursday night. The police won't tell why they suspect him, but say that he is a member of the Pell street gang which at war with the Paul Kelly gang.

Metz is 22 years old. He says that he is a bartender when he works, and sometimes a prizefighter. He lives in the rear flat on the second floor at 83 Bayard street. He isn't married. The police have suspected him since Eat-'Em-Up Jack was killed. He hasn't been around his usual haunts

Early yesterday morning the police learned that their man was in his home. Detectives Stapleton and Ross of Inspector Schmittberger's staff and Gilday of the East Fifth street station went to the house. When they broke open the door to the flat they found Metz in bed. He grabbed an ax handle standing beside his bed and made for Ross. The other detectives were too quick for him. He was overpowered before he could do any damage. Metz was taken to Police Headquarters.

Later he was taken to the Eldridge street station, where he was locked up. He will be arraigned this morning in the Essex Market police court. The police say that they expect to have somebody on hand then to identify him as the man who struck

McManus.

Metz has a police history, although there is no record of his ever having done time. According to the police, he was mixed up in a fight in Clarendon Hall when four shots were fired at Policeman Dolan, who is now in the Yorkville police court. Policeman O'Neill arrested Metz, but Dolan was not able to identify him as the man who shot him. He was let go.

Recently, according to the police, Metz was in a fight in Jim Lavelle's saloon, in Chinatown, when a man named Kennedy was killed. He wasn't arrested, however.

At the station house the prisoner was confronted with several of the witnesses, none of whom was able to identify him as the man who was seen to assault McManus.

Babbitt, the rector of the Epiphany, to retire with the title of rector emeritus and to receive an amount equal to his present salary for two years, while the Rev. Frederick W. Norris, rector of St. Matthew's, is to be at the head of the new parish.

St. Matthew's Church is also to assume the $17,000 indebtedness of the Epiphany. Should the plans be perfected a fine new church will probably be erected in the neighborhood of Greene and Lewis avenues. Yonkers, West Point, Newburgh and Poughkeepsie on Decoration Day, leaving Deskeepsie on Decoration Day, leaving Des-brosses street at 8:40 A. M., touching at West Forty-second and 129th streets, and returning in the afternoon. Passengers from Brooklyn may connect with the New York by the annex boat leaving the foot of Fulton street at 8 A. M.

The steamer Mary Powell will make an afternoon trip to West Point, leaving from Desbrosses street at 1:45, touching at Forty-second and 129th streets, and arriving at West Point at 4:40. Excursionists may return by the steamer Ramsdell or by way of the West Shore or New York Central railroads.

Grace M. E. Church's New Pastor. NEWBURGH, May 27 .- The Rev. T. H. Baragwanath, pastor of Trinity M. E. Church here for the last three years, will soon be transferred to the pastorate of Grace M. E. Church, New York city. The transfer comes as a great surprise to Trinity Church people, but they consent to the change. It is expected that the Rev. William F. Compton, now pastor of Trinity Church, Kingston, will succeed Dr. Baragwanath here.

Fine Send-off for Newark's Mayor. Mayor Henry M. Doremus of Newark sailed for Europe yesterday on the Philadelphia and the steamer was followed down the bay by the steamboat Isabel, carrying a large party of his friends in the Essex county Republican committee, heads of departments and Newark officials. Flowers almost filled the stateroom occupied by the Mayor. Police Commissioner Frederick Castle accompanied him.
